

III. International Educational Technology Symposium and Fair (EGITEK 2003)

Reviewed by
Associate Prof. Dr. Aytekin ISMAN,
Conference Coordinator

TOJET, Eastern Mediterranean University, Sakarya University, Iowa State University and Educational Technology Directorate (Turkish Ministry of Education) organized III International Educational Technology Symposium and Fair (EGITEK 2003) between 28-30 May 2003 in Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus. Almost 300 academic people, educators, teachers, parents, and students from USA, Canada, Turkey and Europe had presented 187 research papers and had participated symposium activities. After peer reviewing process, all presented conference papers will be published in TOJET.

The EGITEK 2003 symposium series (first held at Sakarya University 2001 in Turkey) is an international academic, educational, professional group dedicated to the advancement of educational technology knowledge, theory, and quality of learning and teaching at all levels.

EGITEK 2003 is an international educational activity for academics, teachers, and educators. It promotes the development and dissemination of theoretical knowledge, conceptual research, and professional knowledge through symposium activities. Its focus is to create and disseminate knowledge about the use of instructional technology for learning and teaching in education.

PRINT	RETURN
-----------------------	------------------------