It is beyond doubt that many people contributed to the Turkification and Islamization of the Balkans, a geography that is equally as important as Anatolia and Central Asia for the Turkish history. However, the name of Sari Saltuk Gazi comes to the forefront regarding his mission for this purpose. Reminding a Turkmen Gazi's, Sari Saltuk, advent to the Balkans with social, cultural and scientific activities as well as elaborating his masterpiece, i.e. Saltuk-nâme which includes his life experiences, for our cultural history through new articles and researches is highly significant.

For this purpose, the Balkan Research Institute of Trakya University organized a symposium so as to memorialize the advent of Sari Saltuk Gazi to the Balkans. Under the leadership of Prof. Yener Yörük, the Rector of Trakya University, the symposium was held on 6-10 November 2013 in Constanta, Romania. International Sari Saltuk Gazi Symposium: 750th anniversary of his arrival to the Balkans was sponsored by Türk Dil Kurumu (Turkish Language Institution), TİKA (Turkish Cooperation and Coordination Agency Directorate), Yunus Emre Enstitüsü (Yunus Emre Institute) which are prominent Turkish institutions that contribute to the scientific and cultural life of the country.

During the symposium, thirty researchers and specialists from Turkey and Balkan countries presented about Sari Saltuk Gazi and Saltuk-nâme. Their proceedings were published in 2014 by the Balkan Research Institute of Trakya University under the title International Sari Saltuk Gazi Symposium: 750th anniversary of his arrival to the Balkans. The book starts with a preface written by Ahmet Günşen, the head of the Balkan Research Institute, in which he provides his take about the Balkans, Sari Saltuk Gazi and Saltuk-nâme.
