From the Editor

13 December 2019

Dear IJCER Readers,

Welcome to Volume 6, Issue 2 of IJCER

IJCER attracted a great deal of academic interest from respected academics in the education field in 2019. That IJCER has been indexed with ERIC has played a major role in this. We are happy with this and we wish to be accepted by ESCI and applied for it. Yet, this has also affected the review and publication process of manuscripts negatively due to the influx of submissions. Therefore, we expect authors to understand that publication in a short time is not possible since we are strict about academic quality and publication frequency. IJCER will continue to be published biannually and each issue will include twenty articles.

In this issue, there are 20 articles from various fields of education. We hope that these articles will contribute to the literature. We would like to express our gratitude to our authors, reviewers and editorial board for their contribution to IJCER. We wish that our readers will find the issue of value to their field.

Hope to meet you in the next issue of the IJCER.

Regards,

Cahit ERDEM, PhD
