Dear Scientists,

We are happy to publish the first issue of 6th volume of our journal by publishing your scientific studies. We can predict that our journal, which has high international accessibility because it is published in English, will become much more effective in the coming years.

You will see some innovations in this issue in our journal. We strengthened our citation to ethical principles. Our authors must make a commitment to their scientific studies that they do not need to take an ethical committee approval, that they do their work in accordance with ethical principles. We will start publishing accepted articles in the "Accepted Articles" tab before the issue is released.

In these days while we experience the COVID-19 pandemic, we will give priority to the evaluation processes of the studies you will carry out in the field of study of our journal related to the COVID-19 pandemic by taking scientific responsibility.

In the field of health management, we will continue to create a suitable situation for your studies.

With Regards...
