Dear Colleagues,

We present the second issue of the Journal of Maritime Transport and Logistics to our valuable readers. In this issue, there are 5 research articles, one of which is in English. Articles are useful research examining various topics in Maritime Science. In the studies, there are scientific evaluations about the Technology Acceptance Model, simulation modelling, intermodal transportation, digitalization, and diesel engines.

In this issue, we would like to express our gratitude to authors, our journal secretariat, referees who have increased the scientific quality of the submitted manuscripts with their invaluable opinions, and also our advisory body consisting of the most valuable scientists in the field.

Yours Sincerely.

Prof. Dr. Soner ESMER
