- f) represents a case of scientific misconduct,
- g) When the journal is overburdened with too many submissions, editors have the right to reject manuscripts without peer review based on their perceived merit. with too many submissions, editors have right to reject manuscripts without peerreview based on their perceived merit.

Ethical and plagiarism issues

- ✓ All the studies should be prepared in accordance with ethical rules and citations should be indicated in the text.
- ✓ Authors should check the manuscript with plagiarism programs and send a similarity report via submission system.
- ✓ Ethical reports must be submitted by the author, when necessary.

Changes to authorship

Authors are expected to consider carefully the list and order of authors before submitting their manuscript and provide the definitive list of authors at the time of the original submission. Any addition, deletion or rearrangement of author names in the authorship list should be made only before the manuscript has been accepted and only if approved by the journal Editor. To request such a change, the Editor must receive the following from the corresponding author: (a) the reason for the change in author list and (b) written confirmation (e-mail, letter) from all authors that they agree with the addition, removal or rearrangement. In the case of addition or removal of authors, this includes confirmation from the author being added or removed.

After Acceptance

Once the manuscript is accepted for publishing in Bee Studies, authors will receive an e-mail notification with all necessary information on further steps in the publishing process.
