Dear Scientists,

With your contributions and efforts, we have left behind six years of our publishing life. Our scientific journey, which started with 50 volunteer scientists, has completed its sixth year.

We have contributed thousands of researchers with hundreds of studies. We supported the formation of new friendships and working groups.

JUM has reached hundreds of universities and research institutions thanks to the painstaking work of our authors, reviewers and editors. We are working hard to reach more universities and researchers.

We thank all our colleagues for their contributions.

We look forward to the kind support of you, our esteemed researchers and authors, in the next stages of our publication life.

We wish you a scientific life full of success.

Kind regards!
