EDITORIAL

We are excited to publish the first issue of the 6th year of our journal, Anatolian Current Medical Journal (ACMJ). In the new year, our Journal will be published as 6 issues per year. The quality of the articles in our journal, which is included in Ulakbim TR-index and many international indexes, is increasing day by day. We want to be included in stronger international indices in the near future. We want to raise the quality of the articles to a higher level and contribute to the academic literature on behalf of our country by entering valuable international indexes such as SCI-Expanded, Scopus, ESCI, Pubmed. We would like to thank the editors working in our journal, all the authors who sent their articles to our journal, and everyone who contributed to the publication, development and any stage of the journal.

Hoping that the new year brings health, happiness and peace to our country and all humanity...
