

EDITORIAL PRINCIPLES AND RULES OF ARTICLE WRITING OF THE JOURNAL OF KARABUK TURKOLOJI (KATUD)

A. Editorial Principles

1. KATUD, which is published two issues in each year in the four periods of publishing that is declared by the Chancellery of Karabuk University, is a scientific journal with an international editorial board.
2. KATUD includes unpublished scientific articles related with Turkish language, literature and culture which are dependent on research and will make original contributions to the field.
3. The conformity of the articles that will be published in KATUD is evaluated by The Editorial Board of the journal. The relevant articles are sent to be evaluated to three referees from different universities who are specialist on their fields. The articles that are accepted by at least two referees are published in KATUD.
4. The articles which are not accepted by The Editorial Board or The Committee of Referees are not given back to the writer.
5. The legal, scientific and ethical responsibility of the articles that are published in KATUD belongs to their writers.
6. The articles that are published in KATUD can be quoted in a limited way.
7. The publication language of KATUD is Turkish. Yet the articles in foreign languages can be published with the decision of the Editorial Board with the condition of not being over one-third of the existing articles.
