The International Journal of Contemporary Tourism Research (IJCTR) is a peer-reviewed international journal published in English and Turkish. It aims at publishing high quality research studies in all related areas of tourism, including economics, business, management, history, geography, sociology, social psychology, ethics, etc.

The scope of IJCTR encompasses theoretical, empirical or policy oriented research articles, original research reports, reviews, scientific commentaries in the field of tourism including both controversial and innovative ideas and detailed contributions from other directly related fields such as econometric, economic development, trade and the environment and political economy.

Manuscripts are reviewed in a unbiased manner, receiving prompt attention by the editorial office and its referees. After a preliminary assessment of the suitability of the paper by the Editor, any paper will follow a double-blinded peer review process. The goal of the Editorial office is of providing the referees’ reports, and the final decision by the Editor, within ten weeks since submission.

The whole process will be handled by the Managing Editor, to whom all inquiries should be addressed. Articles for consideration should be submitted using the online submission form. Submissions through e-mail will not be considered. Submission is electronic only.

The IJCTR is committed to keeping the content of all submissions confidential until the publication date. Although we make every possible effort to ensure reviewers honor their confidentiality commitments, we cannot be held responsible for the conduct of reviewers. Reviewers should be aware that it is our policy to keep their names confidential, and that we do our utmost to ensure this confidentiality.

The IJCTR is committed to upholding the highest standards of publication ethics and takes all possible measures against any publication malpractices. All authors submitting their works to the IJCTR for publication as original articles attest that the submitted works represent their authors’ contributions and have not been copied or plagiarized in whole or in part from other works. The authors acknowledge that they have disclosed all and any actual or potential conflicts of interest with their work or partial benefits associated with it. In the same manner, the IJCTR is committed to objective and fair peer-review of the submitted for publication works and to prevent any actual or potential conflict of interests between the editorial and review personnel and the reviewed material. Any departures from the above-defined rules should be reported directly to the Editor-in-Chief, who is unequivocally committed to providing swift resolutions to any of such a type of problems.

IJCTR’s general principles of specified purposes are listed below:

- IJCTR publishes biannually.
- IJCTR publishes in Turkish and English.
- Scientific articles are published and empirical (practical/experimental) researches are given priority in the journal.
- The responsibility of opinions expressed in the article entirely belong to the authors.
- The studies submitted to IJCTR for publications must not be published in any journal before.
- The studies submitted to IJCTR should be prepared by entirely obeying the scientific ethics rules.
- All copyrights related to published articles belong to the journal.
- Copyright fees or any other payments under another name are not paid to the authors for their articles.
- The authors who submit studies to the journal are considered as agreed not to demand this kind of claims.
International Journal of Contemporary Tourism Research is a biannually refereed journal publishing scientific/original research articles. Liability of the articles about academic and language issues belongs to the author(s) of the articles. The articles published in this journal cannot be used without giving reference.
