

From the Editor

Greetings,

I would like to celebrate the third issue of our journal and the completion of our first year with you all. My colleagues on the editorial board, the reviewers and the authors have contributed significantly to the success and completion of this process.

As of November 21, 2017, our journal is being indexed in the “Turkish Citation Index”.

Our University, just as our journal, has always demonstrated the maximum effort to be in accordance with the quality assurance system. I offer my gratitude to all my colleagues, who have invested their time and effort in this endeavor. We are currently working towards gaining acceptance for indexing into other journal indexing databases.

What is of utmost importance in life, is to believe that you are never too late to achieve your aspirations. With this in mind, your research articles, case reports and reviews you’ve prepared or are preparing, will contribute to the studies of our readers without further delay.

In the upcoming year, i wish you all a fruitful life, with the colors of flowers and offer my respect.

Respectfully yours,

Assistant Professor A. Yüksel BARUT
