H.Y. Sohn and H.K. Lin
- 169 Description of a new filtration method, including comparisons with gravity separations
G.R.S. Smith and C.R. Rinscher

Mining Engineering

OCTOBER 1990

- 1159 Estimating technology's impact on underground coal productivity
Stanley C. Suboleski and Robert H. King
- 1165 Navajo Mine: Multiple seam dragline stripping
D.L. Schenk
- 1170 Longwall mining: Future concerns that must be addressed
Brand C. Lewis
- 1172 Tech News: Expanded casting patterns boost coal production
- 1177 Hydrogeologic impacts of mine design in unsaturated rock
R.E. Williams, S.D. Vincent and G. Bloomsburg
- 1184 Continuous haulage systems for computer-assisted continuous miner
S.K. Bhatt
- 1189 Continuous pilot-scale testing of column flotation for recovery of fine coal
J.G. Groppo and B.K. Parekh

NOVEMBER 1990

- 1239 Reclamation practices at Homestake's McLaughlin Mine
Raymond E. Krauss
- 1242 Update on regulations for mine waste disposal under RCRA
Stephen Hoffman and Van Housman
- 1245 Dealing with subsidence on abandoned mine lands
P.M. Lin, S.S. Peng and P. Tsang
- 1246 Developing an information system to choose abandoned mine sites for reclamation
E.K. Albert and R.L. Flegal
- 1247 Reserve audits: What they are, what they should cover, how they are used
I.S. Parrish
- 1249 History and evolution of rubber liner systems for grinding mills
Stuart F. McTavish
- 1252 Determining value-added opportunity in industrial minerals
Steven B. Van Kouteren
- 1259 Advantages of using advancing-tailgate shortwall ventilation in underground trona mining
C.J. Pritchard
- 1263 Environmental suitability of compacted clay liners
N.B. Aughenbaugh
- 1267 Short-scale spatial variability of sulfur in a coal seam
R.W. Barbaro, K.V.K. Prasad, R.V. Ramani and P. T. Luckie
- 1269 Impact of mining on ground water recharge, Navajo Coal Mine, New Mexico
W.J. Stone
- 1272 DISCUSSION: Volumetric efficiency and the potential for increased productivity in underground haulage units: plans and concepts
J. W. Leonard and D.A. Newman

DECEMBER 1990

- 1321 Heap leaching and dump leaching at the Mesquite Mine
Tim Q. Haldane
- 1323 Atmospheric carbon elution without the use of cyanide at Barneys Canyon Mine
Philip L. LeHoux and Lynda T. Holden
- 1325 Operating a commercial-scale bioleach reactor at the Congress gold property
Ralph P. Hack!
- 1327 Heap leaching of fine agglomerated tailings at Asamera's Gooseberry Mine
Jeff W. Butwell
- 1328 Carlin ore: flotation for carbon separation - K.N. Han and Y. Chen
Treating refractory ores
Lichy, Ramadorai, Bhappu and Roman
- 1329 Bureau of Mines research to automate continuous mining machines
George H. Schnakenberg
- 1334 1991 recession impact on US mining and metals
T.D. Kaufmann
- 1335 Revolutionary War mines take a cute from the French
B. Snashall
- 1337 Assesment of remotely controlled mining equipment
R.N. Torbin
- 1342 Solving mine ventilation networks with fixed and non-fixed branches
Y.J. Wang
- 1347 Effect of water carryover in a bank of industrial coal froth flotation cells with a comparasion to laboratory test results
B.J. Arnold and F.F. Apian
- 1352 DISCUSSION: Innovative shaft lining method - D.R. Torbin and R.F. Kovar

Mining Magazine

OCTOBER 1990

- 252 Panorama
Colomac gold mine officially opened; Novel Soviet exploration technology under test in Canada; Copper, a major force - Outokumpu and Codelco cooperation.
- 257 Jamestown
Operations at this low grade open pit gold mine- the third largest in California operating in the environmentally sensitive Mother Lode area of Tuolumne County.
- 264 Mill Design
The concluding part of this article on design of large grinding mills for the mineral processing industry deals mainly with drive systems.
- 270 Sampling Techniques
Sampling; what it is, the standards to be applied, the types of equipment used and the basic requirements of a sampling system.
- 274 Sampling and Weighing
The products and services offered by companies in the fields of inspection and analysis, sampling devices, laboratory equipment, weighing and process control.
- 281 The Jameson Cell
Alan Kennedy describes the main innovative features of the Jameson flotation cell, which seems set to make a big impact on the design of flotation circuits.

NOVEMBER 1990

- 322 Panorama
Campanilla gold mine, Ecuador; Sua Pan soda ash project, Botswana; Open cast coal contract for Miller Mining, U.K.; Mining companies donate to new mining school in PNG.
- 328 Fluorspar in Derbyshire
How 75,000 t/y of acid grade fluorspar are produced in a National Park.
- 334 Parys Mountain
As we go to press, the decision is awaited: will this once again be a producing mine?

- 340 Harworth Colliery
Nottinghamshire's northernmost colliery contends with high rock temperatures and large gas emission rates, but is on target to increase output.
- 345 Opencast Coal Mining
Despite adverse conditions of geology and site access, U.K. opencast coal mining has a long history profitable working.
- 354 Irish Exploration
Interest is reviving: exploration successes and future prospects.

DECEMBER 1990

- 410 Panorama
Refugio -world class deposit to world class mine?; Remote sensing comes of age; Bucketwheel dredges gain popularity; New copper ore find extends Mt Gunson operation; Discovery of the Azul deposit, Brazil - the facts.
- 418 Red Dog
Operations at Cominco Alaska's zinc-lead mine in northwest Alaska which earlier this year began shipment of concentrates to world markets.
- 427 Ceramic Superconductors
Dr. M. A. Malati discusses their possible applications in the mineral industry.
- 434 British Metal Mining Engineers
Extensive British involvement in overseas mining in the late 19th and early 20th centuries contributed to formation of the IMM and advancement of mining education.
- 436 Hydro-power at Kloof
Using the high head available in a deep shaft to power mining equipment.
- 439 Hydraulic Impact Hammers
Geoff Pearse discusses the range of machines available for scaling and breaking.
- 445 Coal in Malawi
Dr. W. L. Chen describes the coal deposits in Malawi and discusses their ranking.
