

Editorial

Clin Exp Ocul Trauma Infect. 2023;5(1)

Prof Dr Berna Akova, MD, FEBOpht, FICOPht, MRCSEd(Opht)

Bursa Uludag University, Department of Ophthalmology, Bursa, Türkiye

Dear colleagues,

In this issue, you will find a very valuable review about the preoperative antibiotic prophylaxis in ophthalmology. In this review, there are highly demonstrative illustrations that aid in summing up all latest information.

There is also a case report related to ocular trauma, challenging to diagnose as a scleral injury underneath a conjunctival cyst. You will also find an educative image in this issue.

As an original article you may read about the meibomian gland changes following dacryocystorhinostomy for chronic dacryocystitis.

In the pursue of a period free of pandemics, infections, we also expect to live in a better world, away from violence and poverty.

I wish you a pleasant year.

Dr Akova