Plagiarism Policy	First Submission Similarity Rates: During the submission process, the author is required to upload a similarity report. The report must be generated using Turnitin, iThenticate, or IntihalNet. Manuscripts with a similarity rate of 20% or less (excluding the bibliography) are accepted, The similarity rate for each cited source should not exceed 3%. Similarity Rates After Peer Review: For publication, the final version of the manuscript is checked using the iThenticate similarity report. The required similarity rates are reviewed during the pre-admission stage. However, the final similarity rates after refereeing are determined solely based on the iThenticate report.
Fee Policy	The journal does not charge any fees for the submission or publication of articles. Both authors and readers can access the journal free of charge.
Withdrawal Policy	1. Manuscripts can be withdrawn by the author before entering the peer review process. 2. Once the manuscript enters peer review, it generally cannot be withdrawn. After the review process, the author may request withdrawal, and if insisted, the article will be returned. 3. Once the manuscript is accepted, it cannot be withdrawn. 4. In certain cases, such as ethical violations or plagiarism, journals may allow withdrawal, but this is subject to the journal's specific policies.
Peer Review	Double Blind Peer Review (3 Reviewers per Article)
Correction and Retraction Policy	Corrections: Articles published in JENAS can be corrected if necessary. Corrections are made in cases where significant errors occur during the publication process that result in a serious infringement of the rights of the author(s). Such corrections will be published in the next issue, in accordance with the guidelines of DergiPark and TR Index. Retraction: An article can only be retracted by a court order. If JENAS implements a fee structure in the future, no refunds will be issued. All other fee-related matters will be governed by the journal's policies.

JOURNAL INFO

The International Journal of Environmental and Natural Studies (JENAS), established in December 2019, is an international scholarly journal published under the Black Sea Nature and Environment Association (KADOÇED). The journal operates on a Double-Blind Peer Review Process (three independent reviews per article) and primarily publishes articles in English.

JENAS focuses on a wide range of disciplines within Natural and Environmental Sciences, addressing topics such as Geography, Biology, Landscape Architecture, Urban Planning, Public Administration, Environmental Problems, and Environmental Engineering. The journal serves as a platform for discussing environmental challenges and proposing solutions through interdisciplinary approaches.

Publishing Schedule: April, August, and December

Access: Articles are published on the DergiPark platform, and author guidelines, along with article templates, are available on the journal's website.

JENAS is committed to advancing knowledge in environmental and natural sciences while fostering dialogue on pressing global challenges.
