Dear IJES Readers,

Five research papers in total were included in the first volume of IJES. These papers were mostly related to teaching English as a foreign language while there was one study related to teaching Turkish language. Research on foreign language learning has recently emerged to be more abundant than ever before due to the requirements of the new century. Further, studies on teaching foreign languages have extensively increased by means of applied sciences. As International Journal of Educational Spectrum, in our first volume, we have included specific papers in this broad perspective.

I would like to thank the authors who have contributed to the journal with their valuable articles, the reviewers who have evaluated the papers, and all the editors who honored us with their profound suggestions.
