Dear Editor:

I am delighted to tell you that your journal has been accepted by our product managers to go onto EBSCO databases. Attached is our standard, non-exclusive agreement. Please check that the information I entered is correct. If it is not, you may correct it.

The remaining sections to be filled out are:

- Page 1- address
- page 6 - affix a signature, contact associated with electronic files
- last page - your preference regarding sublicensing.

The benefit to the sublicensing referenced in section 2.5 and schedule 2 is broader exposure. The sublicensing partners we have are Britannica, World Book, Pearson, and Grolier, and we only supply content with the prior permission of the publisher.

If you decline all four options on schedule , your content would not be included in any of these until you have been given the opportunity to review the details of the specific initiative and get back to EBSCO with your approval. Accepting all four options means that you are granting us "blanket" rights to proceed.

Publishers typically decline, knowing that they would still have the option to be a part of specific initiatives should one arise.

Providing all is acceptable, please sign and return it to me via email

Please let me know if there are any questions.

Best Regards,

~Krista
